"FOR QUALITY"

Real "Quality" Furs

You will always be proud to wear Macpherson's Furs. Our style originality embraces all those subtle differences of line, all that airy suggestiveness of graceful fold and carelessly careful drape that make our coat models in fur charmingly simple and unobtrusive. As in everyday life it is often not what we say, but what we don't say that counts most—so in furs not only what we have added, but what we have eliminated makes them distinctive and dignified in character and tone. Nothing bizarre, nothing vulgar—every line suggestive of subdued refinement, every seam and fold an ear-mark of exclusive richness.

HARNESS NOTES.
W. H. Gocher, secretary of the National Trotting Association, says there is no truth in the report from Hartford that Henry Ford is trying to buy Charter Oak park. The sale of the property would be a calamity to horse interests and New England people are hopeful that some day the state of Connecticut will insure its permanent safety as a fair ground by taking it over and making the Connecticut Fair a real state fair, like the one at Syracuse.

Hoppe's run of 164 made in the fifth inning is but one short of the high mark for the tournament established by Jake Schaefer today. By a score of 400 to 1081 Morningstar won the thirteenth game from George B. Sutton. The winner's average was 23 1-7 with high runs of 73, 70 and 59. Sutton's best runs were 50, 43 and 31 with an average of 10 11-17. In a tedious thirty inning game, Weller Cochran, Detroit, defeated Koji Yamada, the Japanese expert, 400 to 351. The tournament will come to a close on Saturday when Yamada will oppose Morningstar for the championship. Hoppe and Schaefer meet in the final match at New York.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKET FLUCTUATED
New York, Oct. 23.—Not in many months has the stock market recorded such violent fluctuations and extraordinary activity as attended today's unsettled session. The turnover running far in excess of 2,000,000 shares.

The tone was irregular & heavy at the outset but soon strengthened on further spectacular movements in stocks and affiliated at extreme gains of 2 to 15 points.

Meanwhile such recent favorites as motors, oils, shippings and food shares developed increasingly heavy tendencies, contributing largely to the market's reversal at noon.

All gains were effaced while the extensive selling movement was under way, reactions from best prices of the first hour ranging from 8 to 15 points. In a number of noteworthy instances overnight losses of 3 to 10 points were registered.

Lacking more obvious reasons, there was a disposition among traders to attribute the market's feverish course to the bolt of the labor delegation from the industrial conference and to related industrial developments.

On the surface nothing in the money situation accounted for the market's vagaries. Call loans were freely made at yesterday's minimum of 5 1-2 per cent after opening at 6 and some loans were made at the unusually low rate of 4 1-2 per cent before the close.

Stock rallies occurred in the last hour, the comparatively strength of rails and tobaccos inviting moderate buying elsewhere. The recovery failed to hold, however, close market closing with many important stocks only fractionally over the day's minimum quotations. Sales amounted to 2,235,000 shares.

soon be in full swing and the following tips may be of aid in adding not only to the comfort of the dog but the success of the hunt.

Perhaps your dog has not been hunted before this season. It may be that he is just off the chain and not in full condition. His muscles are flabby, his flesh is soft and long continued work will not tire him for the day but will incapacitate him for the next day.

A short preparatory run where there is no game will often tone down a dog and fit him for work. If the hunter is away from home on an expedition the first care should be to see that the dog has proper quarters for the night. His care should not be delegated to hotel servants, but the matter should be personally inspected by himself of the comfort and proper feeding of his dog.

For hunting, a dog should be fed very sparingly in the morning. Give him a bite or two of your lunch at noon and let the full meal be given at night after the day's work is finished. A dog will not hunt well on a full stomach, nor will his food digest well while he is working in the field. If you have a brace of dogs, work them alternately. Let one rest while the hunting while the other is resting at heel. Do not permit a dog to lie in water for any length of time while afield. An occasional plunge will do no harm, however.

On returning at night examine your dog carefully. A slight hand rubbing will disclose thorns or bristles which cannot be removed too quickly if found. Special attention should be given to the feet. If they are inflamed or tender, they should be bathed in beef brine which can be obtained from the butcher. If the skin is worn or the foot wounded, vasoline should be applied. If very badly off, the dog should be "laid up" until he reaches condition again.

Washington is not the least bit worried over the attitude of Dr. Francisco Menzies J. Carvajal, President of Santo Domingo, who objects to American troops being stationed there and has ordered the State Department to withdraw them. Dr. Henriquez has no official standing at present, and no change in administration for the island republic is contemplated in Washington.

SPORTING NOTES.

The possibility of Providence returning to the International League circuit before another season rolls around again is being discussed. Providence has been in the Eastern League or the past two seasons and some consent must be obtained before any change can be made.

Kid Elberfeld, one-time Yankee and for the past few years a manager in the southern association, has turned his attention to the boxing game and is managing two boxers. Elberfeld contends that one of his proteges, Red Herring, is a coming champion.

Plans are under way for a spring series between the world's champion Reds and the Cleveland Indians. Cleveland will train again at New Orleans. It is expected, but the training quarters of the Reds are in doubt. Several cities are angling for Moran's champions.

How Soap is Made.

How many of us think that nothing with the possible exception of food, is so universal in its use as soap? Yet how few, indeed, among us have the slightest knowledge of how soap is made—or of what? Have you ever thought of tallow or cottonseed oil, coconut oil, soybean oil, palm oil, peanut oil, lard, linseed oil or olive oil as being the most important factor, perhaps, in some soap you use?

Can you picture a giant kettle—20 feet in diameter, say, and 60 feet deep—which holds a million pounds of soap when full? In one such pan in the Colgate establishment are placed tons of the particular fats and oils needed for soapmaking, which, with alkali (caustic soda, caustic potash), are boiled and agitated till a chemical rearrangement takes place—producing both oil and glycerin—which it is necessary to separate. The solid alkali (caustic soda, caustic potash) is boiled and agitated till a chemical rearrangement takes place—producing both oil and glycerin—which it is necessary to separate.

In the cause of toilet soaps the pure soap is pumped off, chilled with water, dried by purified air, mixed with perfume and given even texture by tremendous pressure, after which it is
